Dear Mr. Renner,

I am quite disappointed that you have not answered my letter of two months ago and that I have not received what you said in your letter of 7/16 was being preppred and sent to me. I would appreciate an explanation.

I had planned to use some of thisn material in a book I had then drafted and was revising. I left the Wheat section out, expecting what you would be sending. I had just stout enough to use, but I decided to wait for the new material you had that I did not. The consequence is that I have finished the manuscript with no mention of the Wheats at all. There is much too much work to do to go back and revise a book. If it is important it, of course, can be done. But it is a waste of time that I really cannot justify.

Sometime soon, I hope, plans for my trip to California will jell. Should you have any interest, Steve Burton or Hal Verb will know before I do when and where I will be.

Sincerely yours,

Harold Weisberg
